

Dr. Edwin E. Gonzalez-Montalvo, PE

Dr. Edwin E. Gonzalez-Montalvo is an infrastructure professional specialized on public-private partnerships (P3), project finance, public sector procurement, and strategic advisory. Presently, Dr. Gonzalez-Montalvo serves as Senior Technical and Strategic Advisor at CPM, a technical advisory firm in the infrastructure and construction sectors with offices in Miami, Panama, and Puerto Rico.

Prior to joining CPM, Dr. Gonzalez-Montalvo served as Project Engineer and aid to the Executive Director of the Puerto Rico P3 Authority, the first centralized P3 government agency in the US. His doctoral research analyzed governance and risk management in P3s, fiscal support mechanisms to make projects financially viable, and identified and assessed innovation in infrastructure projects.
